

Join the Ohio Grasslands and Forage Council, the Ohio Sheep Improvement Association, and OSU Extension for a forage and grazing school on Friday, July 10th in Greene County. Topics to be discussed include information for the beginning sheep farmer, cool season pasture species, hay production, fencing and rotational grazing management, breeding management and marketing. Each stop will have something different to offer as farmers explain how their operation works for their farm and family. The sharing of ideas is how we all learn.

Pre-registration is required by July 5th and is limited to the first 50 people. Cost is $40 per person ($30 for current Ohio Forage and Grassland Council members). Cost includes bus transportation, lunch and refreshments. No refunds after July 5th

Check-in begins at 8:30 a.m. in the parking lot of the Young's Dairy 6880 Springfield-Xenia Road (US Route 68), Yellow Springs, OH 45387. The tour includes the following stops:

- 8:30-9:00 Coffee and Donuts available for purchase, Young's Dairy
- 9:30-11:30 Forage and alfalfa variety trials & research update, Western Ag Research Station
- 12:15-1:00 Lunch by Greene County Cattlemen
- 1:00-2:00 Tour of Krajicek Farm (Angus Cross) - view numerous conservation practices
- 2:30-3:30 Tour of Linkhart farm (Bison & Jersey cattle) - Linkhart's also own a small meat processing facility

For more information about the tour, contact Bob Hendershot, Director, Ohio Forage and Grassland Council at 740.477.1114 or bobhendershot2011@gmail.com.

To make a reservation, send the reservation form at the bottom of the page along with your check made payable to OFGC: OFGC

Bob Hendershot
25995 State Route 159
Circleville, OH 43113-9440

.....
No. of Reservations: ____ X $40 ($30 for OFGC Members) Check enclosed in the amount of $ _____

Name(s): _____ Phone No. _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State _____ Zip _____

Email: _____